Our April Ethnographic Auction is highlighted by four exceptional polychrome pottery jars from Acoma and Zuni pueblos. These storage jars hail from the "historic period" of Native American Indian pueblo pottery, circa 1875 to 1940 before the artists began signing their names on their creations. These masterpieces are in near perfect condition despite their fragility and age.

We are pleased to offer an extensive selection of African tribal artworks from the estate of scholar and art collector Jean-Pierre Hallet. Born in 1920 to Belgian colonists deep in the Congo region, Hallet grew to love and care for the people of Africa and he became the champion of the Efe or Pygmy people of the Ituri forest of Central Africa. He is best known for his popular books on life and culture in Africa: "Congo Kitabu", "Pygmy Kitabu" and "Animal Kitabu" ("kitabu" means book in Swahili). In the 1970s, Mr. Hallet created the Pygmy Fund, a charitable organization dedicated to saving the Efe Pygmies from extinction and preserving their way of life with self-reliance and dignity. Proceeds from 30 lots in this sale will be donated to benefit the Pygmy Fund.

We are currently accepting property for upcoming auctions.
